

Modern Slavery Policy

The Guardtech Group are committed to preventing Modern-day slavery and human trafficking in our business operations and supply chains. We are dedicated to acting ethically and with integrity in all business dealings, effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place.

We recognise and support the principles of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and strive to maintain transparency throughout our organisation and with all suppliers and stakeholders we work with.

Our company operates with a family-oriented culture and majority owned. We are a service company that design, supply, install, commission, maintain and service Cleanrooms and controlled environments.

Here at Guardtech we have a supply chain pre-qualification for those stakeholders working with us, which includes qualifications, accreditations, CPD, references and personal interviews and we also vet our client base to ensure total integrity and professionalism to ensure a suitable and confident relationship.

Suppliers are required to notify us of any breach or potential breach of the Modern Slavery Act 2015. There are also requirements in place in our agreements with our suppliers for them to implement due diligence for their own suppliers and subcontractors to ensure there is no slavery or human trafficking in their supply chain

As a company we will not contribute to, endorse or knowingly engage with any person, company or organisation found to be involved in Modern slavery or human trafficking in any form
